For Patient Portal messages and other communication, patients can expect a response in 3 days. If communication involves medical decision-making and takes 5 or more minutes of nurse practitioner's time in back and forth communication over a 7-day timeframe, you or your insurance may be billed. If you are not okay with possibly being billed for asynchronous communication, please schedule follow-up telemedicine visits for medication refills or changes, lab result review, evaluation, advice, referrals, letters, record requests, etc.
